BOFFI|DEPADOVA

Boffi|DePadova has made a grand entrance in NYC with its breathtaking new flagship. Spanning three levels and 20,000 square feet, this milestone space brings Boffi—established in the U.S. in 2000—and De Padova together with ADL under one impeccably curated roof. Designed by Chiara Tombari, the showroom is more than a display of high-end design—it's an immersive experience, further elevating the district's status as a premier destination for Italian luxury. 99 Madison Ave., boffi.com

LUCIFER LIGHTING

Lucifer Lighting illuminates the New York City design scene with the debut of its Tribeca showroom, a stunning two-story space celebrating the brand's 45th anniversary and East Coast expansion. Blending function with artistry, the showroom is designed for versatility, effortlessly transitioning from a traditional retail to a dynamic space. Lighting designs by Renfro Design Group set the stage for an inspiring experience, enhanced by a curated selection of family artwork and custom sculptures. In collaboration with Marianne Boesky Gallery, the showroom also showcases works by artist Jammie Holmes, further elevating its creative appeal. 11 Jay St., Manhattan, luciferlighting.com

ETÉLINE

Say bonjour to Etéline, Chelsea's newest design gem, bringing a fresh dose of French flair to NYC's creative scene this winter. Founded by Parisian Olivier Gautschoux and New Yorker Nicole Scott, the gallery blends loft-style charm with an industrial edge, creating the perfect backdrop for collectible design. Showcasing top French artists in furniture, lighting, glass, ceramics, and more, Etéline celebrates the artistry of French craftsmanship. Its debut exhibition features icons like maison Pouenat and Thierry Lemaire, cementing it as a must-visit destination for design lovers. 601 W. 26 St., Ste. 1425A, eteline.com
